Nestled within this collection of pages are the lives, experiences, works, words of the 2019 graduating class of the Reading School of Art. X? Y? Z? Strawberry? Which generation do we actually belong to? Which part of history do people like us occupy? People like us? In a scramble to locate ourselves, frantic dives into search engines, brisk comparisons of birth years, alas, Error 404: Not Found. While the title reflects the struggle to conjure a unifying descriptor for our year group, its contents also celebrate the individualism and diversity seen in the school. In your hands is a collage of stuff, glitches of content, a medley of words, an error-ful yearbook of the class of 2019.

I'VE FOUND MYSELF AS I HAVE GOTTEN OLDER, ADOPTING A WHO GIVES A FUCK ATTITUDE. SOCIETY HAS TOO MANY RULES. LET ME ELABORATE.

NO SPARKLING EYESHADOW AFTER FORTY? SAYS WHO? IF ANYTHING, THOSE LITTLE SPARKLES DIFFUSE THE LINES I'M STARTING TO SEE! THE ONLY ALL MATTE EYESHADOWS I'VE BOUGHT AFTER URBAN DECAY BASICS 1 AND 2 WERE VISEART. I DON'T SEE MYSELF BUYING THE NEW TWELVE PAN PALETTE. AT WORK, NO SPARKLES? SAYS WHO? I ROCK THEM AT WORK AND I'M IN THE MALE DOMINATED ARENA OF FINANCE AND TECHNICAL ENGINEERING. I'VE HAD LONG DISTANCE CLIENTS WHO EXPECT TO MEET A MOUSY NERD AND DO A DOUBLE TAKE WHEN THEY FINALLY MEET ME IN PERSON. I WAS MORE CONSERVATIVE IN MY TWENTIES THAN I AM NOW WHEN IT COMES TO PERFUME AND MAKE UP. I AM STILL INTO CLASSICS WHEN IT COMES TO STYLE - NO PASTELS OR YELLOWS FOR ME. I DON'T CARE IF IT IS THE PANTONE COLOUR OF THE YEAR. I DO WHAT I LIKE. BUT I HAVE BEEN VENTURING WITH MY SCENTS AND ALIEN HAS FINALLY CAPTURED ME.
